

THE NICHEBUILDER™ 100

100 Money Making Niche Examples

To greatly improve your chances for success online, you'll need to pick a specific topic or "Niche" to work with. If you choose a general topic like "dogs", you'll be competing against every website related to dogs. You want to find specific subjects or niches to build your business around. An example of a niche is "dog collars", or better yet "pug collars". Narrowing your niche reduces competition, allows for better search rankings and caters to a specific need or desire of your market.

Sometimes the hardest part to building a Niche, is selecting one. Here's a list to get you started. Many of these Niche keywords are sourced from top producing products on Clickbank. In other words, there is money being made in these Niches, and high converting products to sell within. The Niches are followed by two example keywords. There are many more keywords to investigate for each Niche term, which will be evident using the Nichebuilder Keyword Tool.

I bet you can come up with twenty right now. Just write down subjects you know anything about and go from there. Get specific. Here are some questions to get the ball rolling:

- What do I enjoy doing in my spare time?
- When I talk with other people, what topics do I remember from our conversations?
- What industries have I worked in that I liked?
- What topics do I find myself researching in my spare time?
- Is there a topic that I know more about than most?
- Are there any experts that I have access to in my immediate circle of influence?
- Have I ever solved problems for people? Which problems?
- Are there any problems in general I would like to solve or see solved?

All right, this should be fun and exciting as you can tailor your business around your interests. Find some interesting Niches, then conduct keyword research to see what the best potential option is. You'll also want to see what available products and services there are to monetize your site.
